

CHINA DIECASTING 2021 Trade Show Review

Despite the difficult circumstances worldwide, the China Die Casting has been an extremely important event for us.

As one of the few trade fairs that took place it's meaning should not be underestimated. Even more, since China has grown to the biggest market for Aluminium Die Casting by far.

We are particularly saddened by the fact that the current conditions forbid our German Team to attend in person and deeply hope that this will be possible again in the next years.

In spite of that, or exactly because of that, we are more than happy about the positive response and the number of visitors at our booth. Numerous visitors were able to get into contact with our local Team and it was a great pleasure to provide our support in usual reliable manner.

We are sure that possible questions which require a more precise and intense analysis of the prevailing technical circumstances can be clarified by our local partners henceforth.

We would like to thank you for the shown interest and for the confidence in our company. Furthermore, we are looking forward to an ongoing partnership and are happy to support you at any time if there are any technical challenges or product related needs.

In our German headquarter we have got a comprehensive laboratory technology as well as the willingness to support you with all the know how we gained in more than 60 years as a supplier for Release Agents in the Die Casting Industry.
